About Cleveland

History of Cleveland

Cleveland is a unique city with many historical sites and attractions. Historically, Cleveland has been one of the key manufacturing and commercial centers in the United States. Its location to a major water source and canal (the Erie Canal constructed in 1832), as well as its natural resources led to its rapid industrialization and urbanization. By the end of the 1960's, many of the heavy industries in Cleveland began to decline in accordance with national trends. However, in an effort to preserve the historical charm and beauty of many of these areas, serious renovation projects have taken place in the last two decades. Today, Cleveland is a great tourist destination, culinary center, and a hotbed for medicine.

Cleveland Council on World Affairs

The Cleveland Foreign Counselor Corps was established in 1925 and provides nonpolitical representatives who serve as facilitators between the US and their respective countries. They also serve as aids for foreign nationals living or visiting in Cleveland. Countries represented in the Cleveland Foreign Counselor Corps: Albania, Belgium, Canada, Czech Republic, Denmark, France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Romania, Serbia, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Ukraine, and United Kingdom. For more information, please visit <https://www.ccwa.org/programs/>. There are also several local cultural centers and community groups that the Cleveland Council on World Affairs works in conjunction with.

Historical Districts/Places

Downtown:

Downtown offers attractive dining, nightlife, sightseeing, and shopping options. It is also home to several historical spots including Pubic Square, the Mall, Tower City, the Arcade, and the historic Renaissance Hotel. One of the highest points in Cleveland, Terminal Tower, is also located here and contains an observation deck that is great for taking in the Cleveland skyline.

The Flats:

This waterfront neighborhood features restaurants, bars, shops and a boardwalk with complementary green space. The area is famous for its water taxis that will take you from one side of the flats to the other. You can also visit the Greater Cleveland Aquarium located inside the historic Powerhouse on the west bank of The Flats.

3 Things You Can Do:

- ✚ Make friends with fish and memories with friends at the Greater Cleveland Aquarium, located inside the historic Powerhouse on the Flats West Bank. Featuring more than 5,000 underwater sea creatures, visitors are able to discover aquatic life from all over the world.
- ✚ See your favorite artist perform at Jacobs Pavilion, the open-air amphitheater on the West Bank of The Flats.
- ✚ Gather a group of close buds at Punch Bowl Social and toast one another with local beer, spirits or a large (spiked) punch bowl of drinks. Chat the night away and indulge in some friendly competition with a round of darts, bowling or even shuffleboard.

Warehouse District:

The warehouse district served as Cleveland's primary wholesale commercial area for one hundred years and in 1982 was added to the US National Register of Historic Places. It underwent major commercial renovation in the 1980's with the purpose of revamping the area while preserving its architectural integrity. Today, the warehouse district hosts trendy nightlife venues, improvisational comedy clubs, restaurants, and modern apartment complexes.

Gateway District and East 4th Street:

The Gateway district is comprised of several popular Cleveland attractions including Progressive Field (home of the Cleveland Indians baseball team), and Quicken Loans Arena (home of the Cleveland Cavaliers basketball team). East 4th street provides numerous nightlife and dining options, including comedy clubs and small concert venues like the House of Blues. Nearby on North Coast Harbor are the Cleveland Brown's Stadium and the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.

Ohio City and Tremont:

Ohio City and Tremont are two of Cleveland's oldest and most ethnically diverse neighborhoods. They are home to several trendy restaurants, art galleries, and lounges. Additionally, Ohio City is home to the West Side Market and Great Lakes Brewing Company. The West Side Market is the oldest marketplace in Cleveland and is part of the US National Register of Historic Places. It hosts more than 180 different vendors selling a variety of ethnically diverse goods.

Edgewater Park:

The park is divided into upper and lower areas connected by a bicycle path and fitness course. The upper area contains a renovated pavilion and playground, while the lower area has a swimming beach with picnic areas, fishing pier, and boat launch ramps. It is located at 870 Lakeshore Blvd., NE Cleveland, OH 44108-1069.

Little Italy:

Little Italy is located at the bottom of Murray Hill in between University Circle and Cleveland Heights and is a densely packed area of fine Italian restaurants, bakeries, pizzerias, and art galleries. This is a popular destination in the summer and early fall months. <http://www.littleitalycleveland.com/index.html>.
